GROWTH OF CHARITY.

Notable Absence of Creed Barriers at Capt. Jones' Funeral.

CATHOLIC AND METHODIST UNITE.

Next Week's M. E. Conference at Emory Church in the East End.

MANY CHURCH INTERESTS ARE NOTED

The fact that Father Hickey participated in the obsequies of Captain Jones in connection with two Methodist ministers, is one of the signs of the times. A generation ago such an act on the part of a Catholic priest would have stirred the ecclesiastical world to its profoundest depths. Now it scarcely causes a ripple. Captain Jones belonged to no religious sect, but popular sentiment, which in this instance was correct, recognized in him a man of large heart, and one who fulfilled the end of the commandments, which is charity. If the eternal destiny of men hinges on their fulfilment or non-fulfilment of this command, Jesus of Nazareth plainly taught in his picture of the last judgment, the departed, whose remains were laid away on Thursday, in the presence of weeping multitudes, many of whom had received from his hand substantial tokens of his practical kindiness has entered upon his reward. It is a significant fact that all religious sects are coming to recognize the truth which the Gallilean prophet lived and died for nearly 19 centuries ago, namely, the great law of kindness as between man and man.

We are brothers still, though divided by these thin denominational walls, and, when a noble spirit is smitten down and a great sorrow comes to a community, we forget, and it is well that we should, the little, petty differences and dogmas that divide heart from heart and make man unmerciful to his brother. In all the religious sects are to be found those who are true to the teaching and spirit of the Nazarene; and outside of all,

Is there not a good time coming when the great essentials of the Christian religion will furnish a platform on which all may stand who accept that religion? The fact that a representative of Rome and a follower of Wesley can intigle their tears in the services at the grave of a philanthropist, whose only creed was charity for needy, suffering prother men, is an omen of that good time coming, for which the Nazarine prayed: "That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me and I in Thee, that they may be one in us, that the world may that they may be one in us, that the world may believe that thou hast sent me." in Tenuyson's "Locksley Hall" is the signifi-cant idea that,

Through the ages, one increasing purpose run.
And the thoughts of men are widened by process of the suns. Of the truth of this we had an illustration at

While waiting for the Bishop's arrival to make known to them where they will find a field of labor for the year the ministers may sing:

I know not what awaits me; God kindly veils mine eyes I know not what awaits me; God kindly velis mine eyes, And o'er cach step of my onward way He makes new scenes to rise; And every joy He sends me Comes a sweet and glad surprise; Where'er He leads I'll follow, My trust in Him repose. And every hour in perfect peace I'll sing He knows, He knows,

- So on I go, not knowing:
- i would not if i might;
 I'd rather walk in the dark with God
 Than go alone in the light;
 I'd rather walk by fatth with Him
 Than go alone by sight.

LATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

-Maurice Adler, who was shot by Frank Ward about four months ago, in Washington, died Thursday night.

—The Chicago grand jury yesterday returned indictments against James E. aloore and Will-iam Wright for seiling lottery tickets.

—The Wareham Mass., high school build-ing was entirely destroyed by fire yesterday morning. Most of the contents were saved. —A collision occurred yesterday between a passenger and a freight train at Lasswitz, in Posen, Germany. Four railway officials, who were on the passenger train, were killed, and many of the passengers were injured.

-Five cars of a west-bound passenger train were ditched near Cheyenne, Wyo., by the spreading of rails. Six persons were injured. Four ladies were seriously bruised, a porter's skull was crushed and the conductor had a leg

—James Soward, supposed to be from Vill-isica, Iowa, was killed, and an engineer named Dillard and a Pullman car conductor named Putz, seriously injured, by the collision of two freight trains on the Union Pacific Railroad near Rosco station, in the Western part of Ne-braska.

-Two failures in Boston were reported yes-terday. W. F. Johnston & Co., wholesale deal-ers in teas and coffee, assigned. It is said that an offer to settle with creditors at 40 cents on the dollar has been made. B. Bernardson, manufacturer of leather, also assigned. Liabilities about $16,000.

—Two well known gamblers, Joseph M. Marcus and Napoleon White, committed suicide in New Orleans Thursday, the first named by shooting himself, and White by poisoning. Despondency, brought about by the closing of their gambling houses by the authorities, led them to self-destruction.

—Three children named Walton obtained access to the powder house of the Gypsum mine at Cayuga, Ont., Thursday afternoon, and one of them lighted a match and ignited a quantity of powder. One of the children was literally blown to pieces, and the others were so badly injured that they cannot recover.

—Captain Russell and First Lieutenant Hewett, of the wrecked British war ship Lily, have been reprimanded and dismissed from the service by the naval court martial convened at Halifax for the purpose of investigating the disaster. The court has been in session several days, and concluded the inquiry last night.

—A canard set affoat several days ago in jest caused a run upon the Dime Savines Bank, of Peoria, Ill., and thousands upon thousands of dollars were withdrawn. All deposits were promptly paid out on demand, and so great was the wish of the officials to do what was right that they kept their doors open till II P. M., to give all who wished a chance to withdraw.

The Canadian Government will not appoint customs officers along the international frontier in the Northwest, being satisfied that the mounted police can control the frontier sufficiently. The principal articles smuggled are whisky and cattle. The Government is also satisfied that polygamy is not practiced by the Mormons settled at McLeod, Northwest Territory.

-A boiler explosion occurred at the Indian Creek saw mill and lumber works, near Charleston, W. Va. A number of men were standing near by. Tom Leach and his son, Dick, a young man, were blown to pieces. Three others were seriously injured. Charles Anderson had an arm torn off. The names of the injured are not known. The cause of the explosion is a mystery, as the boiler had been lately tested, and it was in good repair.

The figures "3.7-77," the warning of vigilantes to hard cases, were chalked on street corners and printed in the papers of Helena, Mont, Thursday. This call for a return to the methods of early days was occasioned by the discovery of four fires in as many houses the night before, in the heart of the business section. All the fires were put out before serious damage was done, and in each case it was found that rags had been saturated with oil and fired. The city is patrolled by special police.

J. Lowry E. Bell, the general superintendent of the railway mail service, has consummated an arrangement with the New York Central and the Lake Shore Railroad Companies by which a fast mail train from New York to Chicago will be established next Sunday. This train will leave New York City at 8:50 in the morning and reach Chicago at 9:30 o'clock the next morning. This train will reduce the time of the arrival of the morning mail in Chicago over four hours, and will carry a full force of railway postal clerks who will take mails along over four nours, and will take mails along the entire route. It is proposed to make the separation on the postal cars so complete that the letters will be in readiness for delivery immediately after the train reaches Chicago.

-News from Pike county, Kv., is to the effect that the old Hatfield McCoy feud has broken out again, and at least three more lives have been sacrificed in the bloody vendetta which has now lasted over seven years. The which has now lasted over seven years. The shooting occurred at a marriage at the farm-house of Peter McCoy. His daughter was to become the wife of John Hand a relative of the Hatfield gang, and members of both fac-tions had sworn to prevent the union. Hand had never been connected with the disputes of the factions, and refused to recognize the leaders. Tuesday night the bridal party as-sembled in McCoy's house, and just as young Hand and Miss McCoy stood before the min-ister a volley was poured through a window, which killed both of them and fatally wounded the minister. Reports say that the farmers and mountaineers are looking for the murder-ers, but no trace of them has been found.

-The Mormon elders have been driven out of Wilson county, Tenn., by the White Caps. The elders disappeared some time ago, when the agitation was hot against them, but a few days ago returned, believing the storm to have blown over. However, the people who warned them proposed to make the threats good. Forty men, masked and robed in white, Thursday night visited the houses of William Barrett, Thomas Smith and Lee Barrett, where the elders have been secluded, but someone had given them warning and not an elder was to be found. These men were cautioned against allowing the elders to ever darken their doors again. The elders left the county Thursday. A number of converts have declared they are done with Mormonism. The experience of a woman of the neighborhood, now in Bowles, Ky., has had a beneficial effect. She went to Utah as a convert, but is back in her old home warning others.

GRAVE OBJECTIONS.

Cornepelltans Do Not Like to Drink Water That Percolates Through a Cemetery-A Hitch Possible.

There seems to be a kick of considerable dimensions developing in Coraopolis against the location chosen by the Cemetery Company, not so much on sanitary as on gorgerising grounds. A part of the ground chosen is the old Methodist Church graveyard. So long as less than half a dozen bodies a year were interred in it no fault was found, but with a regularly incorporated company operating it, it is expected that in-terments will increase to an extent sufficient to pollute the soil to the extent of contaminating all the springs and wells in a mile or so square of the borough limits.

Mr. John Arras, one of the objector stated that if an examination were made and the rock found to dip toward the south, much of the opposition would cease, but this seems not to have been ascertained. Were water works to be built the ob jectors, or some of them at least, might be easily pacified, but as at present the borough contains some five square miles of territory in which houses are thinly scattered, it is argued that it may not be many years until the place is built sufficiently thickly to justify the laying of pipe necessary to supply a territory so extensive. Whether the kick will develop into or ganized opposition remains to be seen, but the opponents of cremation ought at least to favor the location of cemeteries on low ground so that the dead may not be a menace to the living.

Such is the experience of women who use Pearline for house-cleaning, and the degree of health and comfort is largely due to the way they use it. Directions for saving labor on every package. Delicate women can clean house by its aid; children will be a help, and husbands will never know the work is going on-out of the way, and they will be ignorant of it. It is bosh to say that Pearline hurts the clothing, the paint or the hands. Numbers of people clean their teeth with it; many babes have been washed with it from their birth; the most delicate of laces and linens have been subjected to the severest of tests. Everything washable, and everybody who must do this work, is benefitted by reason of the use of Pyle's Pearline. It's the modern soap. You'll know it and use it sooner or later.
